HBI REALISE and ACHRI are pleased to offer a special on-site workshop designed to help trainees improve their science writing and editing skills. This two-day intensive course will be facilitated by Margaret Chandler, an experienced instructor, editor, author, and owner of Green Fuse Inc.

A Reader-Centred Approach to Clear and Effective Science Writing and Editing

November 21 and 27, 2019 | 9:00 am - 4:30 pm

This 14-hour workshop is an excellent opportunity for participants to strengthen their science writing and editing skills and become more confident and efficient writers. The workshop will be an engaging and comprehensive mix of mini-lectures and presentations, discussions, and individual and group practice.

Participants will review writing basics (e.g., grammar, punctuation, and mechanics); strengthen their ability to write clearly, concisely, and efficiently; learn some of the key strategies and tools that professional editors use; and leave with resources to help them continue to refine their writing skills.

Before the workshop, participants will complete some pre-course reading and will submit a ~400 word writing sample by November 19, which will be used to create a group editing exercise for the second day of the workshop. Each participant will also receive a copy of Margaret Chandler’s book, Good Writing Is Good Business: Your go-to guide to stylish and successful business writing, which will be used to deliver the workshop.

Enrollment in this workshop is limited to a maximum of 15 trainee participants. As we anticipate that demand will exceed the number of seats available, we have implemented a formal selection process for the workshop. Please see attached for more information. Note for HBI trainees: priority registration will be given to active participants in the HBI Science Writing Journal Club.

If you would like to be considered for a seat in this workshop, please review, complete, and submit the application form by 4:30 pm on November 12, 2019. Please submit the form to achri.training@ucalgary.ca