WELCOME NEW STAFF

Jennifer Hodgins joins ACHRI as Child Health Data Program Manager. She brings experience leading teams of quantitative analysts and implementing database technology. Most of all, Jennifer likes to help organizations derive insights from data. She is looking forward to collaborating with ACHRI researchers to identify and deliver fit-for-purpose data solutions. Jennifer is happy to return to the University of Calgary, having previously taught a graduate course in derivatives with the Haskayne School of Business. Outside of work, you can find Jennifer volunteering for local youth sports clubs and contributing to the global data community.
Debbie Wall joins us as the ACHRI Executive Assistant and Administration Manager. Debbie moved her career from England with NHS University Hospitals and with the Ministry of Defence before arriving in Canada 13 years ago. She has transitioned through AHS Public Health, Surgery, and Department of Pediatrics before being welcomed to the ACHRI team. In her spare time she enjoys spending time with family, friends, and fur babies, kayaking/canoeing, hiking, and gardening.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations Dr. Stephen Freedman who has been appointed Associate Dean, Clinical Trials effective May 1, 2022. Dr. Freedman has been practising Pediatric Emergency Medicine at the Alberta Children’s Hospital in Calgary since 2012. He holds the Alberta Children’s Hospital Foundation’s Professorship in Child Health and Wellness and is an acknowledged expert in pediatric acute gastroenteritis, COVID and the conduct of multicentre clinical trials. He has published over 200 peer-reviewed manuscripts and leads numerous CIHR and NIH funded research initiatives. Read more.

COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

Anila Lee Yuen, President and CEO of the Calgary Centre for Newcomers, presented to child health researchers and partners on the inspiring work of the Calgary East Zone Newcomer Collaborative and its holistic response to vulnerable communities in Calgary’s East Zone. Its efforts led to converting the city’s least vaccinated population to a 99% vaccination rate. The presentation highlighted how partnerships and community were essential to this success. Access her presentation.
Join us as we celebrate the Alberta Children's Hospital 100 years of hope + healing! In celebration of this major milestone, ACHRI invites you to share your stories of research excellence.

Researchers and Trainees can share stories by emailing fiona.mackenzie@ucalgary.ca to:

1. Set up a short interview, OR
2. E-mail your reflections on these questions (max 250 words)
   - What about your research are you proud of?
   - What inspires you as you look ahead to the next 100 years?
   - How will your work impact children and families?
   - How will the next generation carry your work forward?

Your stories will be shared in the newsletter and across various social platforms from May until December 2022.

CELEBRATION OF EXCELLENCE

On May 5, the Cumming School of Medicine is celebrating more than 80 UCalgary Med faculty and students whose award-winning achievements received accolades last year – the largest number of honourees to date! Distinguished local and international awards span early career, teaching, research and community. See the full list of awardees, and event details here.

TRAINEE HIGHLIGHTS

Congratulations to Rachel Eirich on her publication in JAMA Psychiatry: Association of Screen Time With Internalizing and Externalizing Behavior Problems in Children 12 Years or Younger. Rachel is a PhD candidate in the Clinical Psychology program, under the supervision of Dr. Sheri Madigan. Her research includes the ways and contexts that digital devices are used across family members and how this affects child mental health and development outcomes.

The study found that while screen time duration impacts child mental health it is only one aspect of a child's environment that may contribute to their wellbeing. As a modifiable risk factor, the study encourages high quality screen time (e.g., educational content) and co-viewing when possible.

PUBLICATION NEWS
Congratulations to Dr. Gillian England-Mason, a Postdoctoral Fellow in the Department of Pediatrics, on her first-authored publication with a team of investigators from UCalgary, University of British Columbia, and University of Melbourne: Prenatal exposure to phthalates and peripheral blood and buccal epithelial DNA methylation in infants: An epigenome-wide association study. Dr. England-Mason is currently working with the Alberta Pregnancy Outcomes and Nutrition (APrON) team under the mentorship of Dr. Deborah Dewey.

The study, including 152 maternal-infant pairs, is the first to show that prenatal exposure to phthalates, plastic chemicals found in food packaging and personal care products, was associated with DNA methylation variation in infants at CpGs annotated to genes associated with endocrine hormone activity, immune function and DNA damage, and neurodevelopment. Findings from this study and future research, will help to determine whether these biomarkers are a mechanism through which phthalates affect long-term health and disease. This work could inform future chemical management plans for phthalates and regulations to protect the health of children and families.

CRESCENDO IS BACK!

After rave reviews in 2019, it's time for the much-anticipated return of this high-energy musical extravaganza in support of youth mental health care and research in our community. This features a full band, orchestra, chorus and Alberta’s top vocal talents from The Beatles, Adele, ABBA, Coldplay and more. You’ll want to share this night with friends. Purchase your tickets now.

GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

NFRF 2022 Special Call - Research for Postpandemic Recovery
The goal of this program is to mobilize Canadian-led research efforts that support a more equitable, sustainable and resilient postpandemic reality. It will support projects that directly address one or more of the research priorities outlined in the UN Research Roadmap for the COVID 19 Recovery.
Deadline: Tuesday, April 26, 2022 (NOI)
Details

CIHR Chief Public Health Officer (CPHO) Report 2021: Future of Public Health
This funding opportunity will support research on the population and public health priorities identified in the 2021 CPHO Annual Report with a portion of the funding reserved for Early Career Researchers.
Canadian Cancer Society Accelerator Grants
This funding opportunity will support the implementation of evidence-based programs, practices, and policies that will improve the lives of people affected by cancer.
